LACC HOSTS LUNAR NEW YEAR CELEBRATION

(Los Angeles, CA – February 1, 2024) – Los Angeles City College (LACC) will host a Lunar New Year Celebration on Thursday, February 8. The event will take place on campus at the main quad from 11:30am to 1:30pm.

The free event will offer a day of Asian arts and music, traditional performances, games and food. Event goers will learn about the meaning behind Lunar New Year. “Lunar New Year is important to many Asians and Asian Americans. In many Asian countries, it is considered the most important holiday of the year. We wanted to share the cultural heritage with the campus,” said Professor Mickey Hong, LACC Academic Senate President and Korean Program Director.

The event will include special performances from Kaz Mogi and Taiko drum performers. Members of the Korean American Calligraphy Association staff will be providing personalized bookmarks for students. A variety of Chinese, Japanese and Korean food will be served. Students, faculty, staff and the community are invited to attend.
