

LOS ANGELES CITY COLLEGE

DEPARTMENT OF MUSIC

Herb Alpert Music Center

Located in the heart of Hollywood, the Los Angeles City College (LACC) Department of Music offers a variety of programs that provide students both traditional conservatory-style music education and cutting-edge vocational training. Our comprehensive course offerings, renowned faculty, and modernized facilities come with unparalleled financial aid opportunities.

HERB ALPERT FOUNDATION

The LACC Department of Music's $10.1 million grant from The Herb Alpert Foundation is the largest-ever private donation to a California community college. The gift provides free tuition for all qualified in-state music majors interested in any of our programs, and partial tuition for qualified out-of-state and international music majors. Visit our website for the Herb Alpert Scholarship application and audition requirements.

PROGRAMS

Associate of Arts (AA) Degree in Music

Commercial Music Certificates of Achievement

The Department awards certificates in Instrumental Performer, Vocal Performer, Composition, and Music Technology. Students in the program develop the skills needed to find employment in the music industry.

LACC Music Academy

Provides private lessons to students planning to transfer to a four-year institution as a music major.

FACULTY & ALUMNI

Our faculty is comprised of renowned music scholars and active industry professionals, providing academic rigor and real-world training that allows our students to succeed in the classroom and in the music industry.

Notable alumni include David Alpert, Chet Baker, Eric Dolphy, Jerry Goldsmith, Jerry Lieber, Mike Stoller, M.C. Hammer, Les McCann, Charles Mingus, Dianne Reeves, Ed Thigpen, John Williams, and La Monte Young, among many others.
