LACC CUBS – UCLA C.C.C.P. Scholars Club

UCLA Center for Community College Partnerships (C.C.C.P.)

The Center for Community College Partnerships is a partnership between UCLA and California community colleges, particularly those with large underrepresented student populations.

Transfer students are the core of UCLA CCCP's outreach to state and youth in California. 40% of graduating classes at UCLA are transfer students. Philosophy of UCLA CCCP Scholars transfer programs is that you are coming into a "Bruin family".

LACC CUBS – UCLA C.C.C.P. Summer Intensive Transfer Experience

UCLA C.C.C.P. – Summer Intensive Transfer Experience (S.I.T.E.)

S.I.T.E. is a FREE 5-day summer residential program at UCLA. If accepted, you will spend a week living at UCLA, developing strong academic skills, meeting people who can assist you through the process, and learning the skills required for an effective transfer experience. S.I.T.E. participants also are paired up UCLA peer mentors (former S.I.T.E. participants and UCLA transfer students) who also act as S.I.T.E. group facilitators.

<http://www.aap.ucla.edu/cccp/site.html>

S.I.T.E. Applications are released around Mid-Spring. Call the department often to find out when applications are released. Deadline for applications is usually around the first week of June. Warning: Do not wait until then. Good luck Cubs!

“LACC Cubs are assigned within a group of several CC transfers during UCLA S.I.T.E. - making the experience truly diverse!”

LACC CUBS – UCLA Admissions S.T.O.M.P. Annual Student Conference

UCLA Admissions – Student Transfer and Opportunity Mentor Program Annual Transfer Conference

STOMP Annual Transfer Conference is an all day event program at UCLA. The UCLA Student Transfer Opportunity and Mentor Program (STOMP), along with Undergraduate Admissions and Relations with Schools (UARS) is convinced that the best way to aid Community College students interested in transferring to UCLA is to empower them by providing key information that will make their Community College experience productive, thus making them more competitive for admissions to the UC system, particularly UCLA. Attendees to the Transfer Conference include low income, first generation, and non-traditional students.

LACC CUBS – VASSAR COLLEGE EXPLORING TRANSFER PROGRAM

VASSAR COLLEGE EXPLORING TRANSFER PROGRAM

For over twenty years, the Exploring Transfer (ET) program at Vassar College has successfully introduced community college students to the possibilities of transfer to a wide range of four-year colleges and universities.

Exploring Transfer is designed to provide an introduction to the intensive study of the liberal arts to community college students who are pursuing associate degrees or certificates in vocational, liberal arts, or science programs.

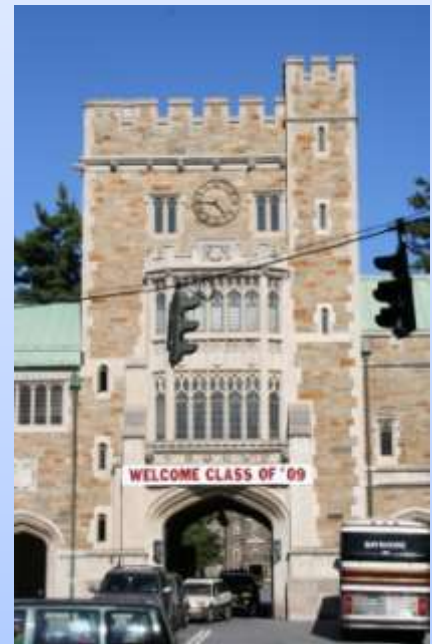

Exploring Transfer Community College Students live in one of Vassar's residence halls where they are encouraged by program counselors to promote intellectual sharing and to provide mutual academic and personal support.

Each student receives a scholarship that covers completely their summer tuition, room, board, books, and all other supplies.

Qualifications: 1st generation in college, underrepresented students
Strong background qualifies, regardless of Grade Point Average (G.P.A.)
