

Receiving bad grades? Having academic problems?
Performing poorly on tests?
Maybe you should see Donna!

Donna Morley meets with students with learning difficulties to find out the nature and possible causes of their academic problems. She then determines if a learning evaluation is warranted and if the student would benefit from services.

Students who qualify for services may receive accommodations that can include:

- additional time on tests
- tutoring
- early registration date
- audiobooks on CD or MP3
- SmartPen or other technology on loan
- training in Read and Write Gold
- specialized counseling and many other support services

Answer Yes or No to the following questions:

	Yes	No
1. Do you often have to think about telling left from right?
2. Are you often the last person to finish tests, or sometimes do not finish because you run out of time?
3. Do you do well on oral tests but poorly on written ones?
4. Do you have difficulty finding the right words to express yourself verbally or in writing?
5. When writing, if you can't spell a word, do you often substitute a simpler word for the one you are thinking of?
6. Do you read very slowly?
7. Is it hard for you to understand and remember what you read?
8. Do you have difficulty copying from the chalkboard?
9. Is it difficult for you to listen to a lecture and take notes at the same time?
10. Have you always been told that you are not trying hard enough, or not working up to your potential, when you are working hard?
11. Do you excel in English but struggle with math? Or the other way around?

If you answered YES to more than three of these questions, please contact Donna Morley in OSS at ext. 2276 for more information or to find out if you have a learning disability.
